THE SUGAR MARKET.

The close of the sugar season at San Francisco was marked by a reduction in prices on December 31st on the part of the California Sugar Refinery, which lowered its prices 16 cent on white sugars and 1/4 cent on vellows. Its list is now as follows: (A) pat, cube sugar, 578; (A) crushed sugar, 578; extra powdered sugar, 5%; fine crushed sugar, 5%; dry granulated sugar, 5% confectioners' A sugar, 51/2; extra C sugar, 41/2; golden C sugar, 4.

NEW YORK MARKET. Refiners have found it necessary to replenish their stocks a little more freely by purchases of spot supplies, and hence the demand has shown slight improvement compared with last week, and this fact appears to have imparted rather more encouragement to holders, but with this exception the situation has developed no new feature. The slow and limited absorption of the product of the refiners, with no immediate prospect of improvement, affords no opportunity for a general stocking up in advance of current wants, and accordingly the demand for raw material is spasmodic and irregular, but on the other hand supplies in first hands are steadily held, sellers being quite content to await the movement of buyers. The transactions reported have all been on the basis of 45% cents for 89 test Muscavados, and 51% cents for 96 test centrifugals, and the market left off steady at these quotations, with some indications of increased inquiry. No business on cost and freight terms has transpired, but 23/4@27/8 cents for 96 test centrifugals represents buyers' and sellers' views. The market for beet has ruled quiet and steady. The offerings have been light, owing to interrupted cable communication with London. A severe storm has disabled all the land lines, and no market reports and but few private advices were received. The last offerings were 11s. 6d., cost and freight, for firsts, and 9s. 3d. for seconds, with business possible at a slight concession.

The bridegroom is well and favorably known in this community as a member of the firm of E. P. Adams & Co., auctioneers, while the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Wm. Love, Emma street, is a most estimable young lady. The ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Olba, assisted by the Very Rev. Father Leonore. Later in the evening a reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother, Emma street. The front of the house and grounds were brilliantly illuminated with colored lanterns. The newly married couple received the congratulations of their friends under a beautiful floral marriage bell. In one corner of the parlor a fine array of handsome presents was displayed, prominent among which was a silver se from Engine Company No. 2, of which Mr. Morgan is Foreman. After the reception the invited guests sat down to an elegant supper served in Caterer Hart's best style. Dancing followed, to the strains of the Royal Hawaiian String Band. As the lecturer had spent many years among the scenes he was describing, his remarks were full of interest. He dealt principally with missionary work, and his subject included New Guinea in the west and Pitcairn in the east, together with most of the islands between those points south of the equator. #### Hawaiian Interests.

Washington, January 2d.-Minister Carter of the Hawaiian Islands is daily expecting the arrival of Mr. Macfarlane, the Hawaiian Minister of Finance, who is on his way to London to close the details of the loan of $2,000,000 negotiated with British capitalists. Minister Carter says that the bonds do not specifically contain a pledge of the revenues of the Islands for their payment. It would be contrary to the treaty stipulations with the United States for the King to mortgage the revenues of his Government to the citizens of any foreign power, and the King had no intention of doing it. Mr. Carter hopes that Congress will ratify the new treaty with the Islands this year. The political importance of maintaining the treaty he regards as paramount to every other consideration, guaranteeing, as it does, independence to the Islands and security to the western coast of the United States. Should Congress remove the duty on sugar, the Hawaiian Government might not be anxious to renew the treaty, particularly if British Columbia held out inducements to the Islanders such as the United States could not give .- [S. F. "Call."

The "Call" of December 27th states: Colonel George W. Macfarlane, the Hawaiian financial agent, left yesterday for London. Before his departure a "Call" reporter learned from him that by the steamer Alameda he had received advices stating that the Hawaiian Government's indebtedness of about $200,000 to Mr. Claus Spreckels, being the amount of personal loans which might be demanded at any time, had been paid out of the surplus revenues of the Kingdom without trenching on the loan of $2,000,-000 which was lately consummated. The Government is still indebted for about $500,000 to Mr. Spreckels, on bonds which he holds, and it is proposed to discount and liquidate these out of the

The Fine Exhibit Made at the Fair by the Fredericksburg Brewing Co.

One of the most novel and unique exhibits of the Mechanics' Fair was that of the Fredericksburg Lager Brewing Co. It was in the form of a bower, the roof being formed of hop vines, while around the sides were arranged the various packages of the famous Fredericksburg beer. This company was the pioneer in the manufacture of lager on the Coast. After overcoming many obstacles they have succeeded in producing an export

By any other made in the United States. A proof of this is seen in the fact that their goods are sold as far East as Chicago, despite Eastern competition. How can they do this after paying freight over 3,000 miles of railroad, it may be asked. In the first place hops are better and cheaper here than in the East; again, California barley is the best grown in the United States; but the chief reason is the superior quality of the brew. As they use only the finest artesian water and the very best material, and have all the best and latest machinery, they are able to produce an article that
